About Me

Victoria can be described as hardworking and a natural born performer. She always gives every performance her all! Victoria started dancing at the young age of one and a half. Victoria always looks to grow as a performer. Over the years, she has taken numerous on-camera workshops and acting classes, as well as dance and singing. She is honored to have worked with many of the industries finest, including NBC, ABC, and Disney Casting.

She landed a lead role performing in her first Off-Broadway show at just 13 years old. In 2019, Victoria was offered the starring role of Nona in the Stephen King Dollar Baby Program's adaption of Nona. Recently, she worked on a new series where she was given the opportunity and honor to share a scene with Nicole Kidman, an experience that Victoria won't soon forget!

In 2017, Victoria had the opportunity to perform and compete with her High School's Honor Choir at Walt Disney World, where they were awarded the Supreme Title. She is currently furthering her education at Pace University, studying all aspects of the Entertainment Industry. In her spare time she loves to read new scripts, choreograph, spend time with her family, create makeup looks, travel, and anything Disney!

What to Expect From Victoria Rooney

Victoria is an extremely talented and capable actor. I had the absolute pleasure of working with Victoria on a short film project, Trepidation. Not only were her acting chops outstanding, but her willingness to work with the director was noteworthy. She understands and takes direction in such a collaborative manner, it's inspiring. She's a true team player. She's not afraid to do action sequences (nor is she afraid to do those sequences way too many times to count.) And perhaps most importantly, she brings a charisma and positive attitude to set that brightens the entire room.
